30 November - 1 December 2017, The Excelsior Hotel, Hong Kong
Theme: "Insuring an Auspicious Start to the Winning Side of 2018"

Keynote Speaker

Dr Moses Cheng
Chairman of Insurance Authority of Hong Kong

The insurance industry is still very dependent on investment income despite all the great strides made to boost underwriting income. Hence Asia Insurance Review, as the voice of the insurance industry in Asia for the past 28 years, is hosting a two-day Asia Investment Management Summit for Insurance, 30 Nov-1 Dec, 2017 in Hong Kong with the theme: "Insuring an Auspicious Start to the Winning Side of 2018" punning on the Cantonese take on "18" as "sure to prosper".

Portents aside, the Summit will provide a platform for CEOs, CIOs, CFOs of insurers and banks, investment bankers, & fund managers to network and collaborate in search of higher returns for all. The Summit will offer insurance investment managers a head start in understanding the likely investment climate in 2018 and provides expert insights into the latest developments and trends aside from overcoming the bane of persistent low interest rates.

The Summit will look at market conditions, potential areas of new investments, use of technology and blockchain, ESG and going green as well as how to use outsourcing and be "sure to prosper" in 2018.
